Online Action for Youth and the creative and Cultural Sectors

Project Reference: 2020-1-DE04-KA227-YOU-020835

The Project's Aim

The project's main aim is to reinforce cross-sectoral cooperation with a focus on creativity, cultural awareness, active participation of youth in the society and to support youth workers, artists, and policymakers to find creative and innovative solutions to the new challenges that the Covid-19 crisis has brought. The Building Better project targets youth organizations, organizations active in the field of arts and culture, training institutions and local authorities in Germany, Cyprus, Italy, and Greece.

Expected Results

The Building Better consortium is going to develop two Project Results, which aim to support young people's well-being and enhance their societal resilience, social inclusion, and participation. These two Project Results are the following:

1) A Webinar which aims to provide local policymakers, youth workers, artists, and representatives of the Cultural and Creative Sectors with knowledge and skills on how to face challenges, share ideas and practices as well as find opportunities to work together on collective resources and campaigns in order to engage youth in cultural activities and the CCSs in the age of social distancing.

2) An Online Portal of Cooperation through which local policymakers, youth workers and practitioners working in the youth work field, as well as young people and artists can enter and receive information on how they can be more active and support young people and other to face the variety of challenges arising from the coronavirus crisis. The online platform will include different resources and tools based on each of the above profiles and will also include a participatory space where each user will have the opportunity to share their initiatives, experiences, challenges, and solutions.

Important Milestones and Next Steps...

The Building Better consortium has reached some important milestones. The project website has been officially released by Eurosuccess with the contribution of all partners.

Webinar

Partners under the coordination of Jugend- & Kulturprojekt e.V. developed the content of the 4 Modules of the Webinar:

- Personal well-being and arts participation (JKPeV)
- Tools and Innovative Practices (Anelixis)
- Ways of supporting young people (iparticipate)
- Going Digital (Eurosuccess)

Eurosuccess is in the process of embedding the content of the Webinar in EN into the online learning environment.

Soon, the beta testers who are representatives of the target groups of the project such as youth workers, youth policy makers, representatives of youth, culture and art organisations are going to pilot test the Webinar in English and provide their feedback.

If you are a representative of a youth centre, youth, cultural and art organisation, youth council, the municipality, a cultural and creative enterprise, take the chance and join the Building Better Webinar.

Portal of Cooperation

Eurosuccess together with all partners discussed the main purpose of the portal and decided that the portal should include additional learning resources, innovative tools and methods for supporting and engaging young people in cultural activities as well as information about each participating city - Dresden, Florence, Heraklion, Larissa, and Nicosia with regard to cultural activities, events and youth support. The most innovative part of the portal though is that representatives of cultural and youth organisations, creative enterprises and local authorities have the opportunity to communicate and cooperate with each other.

Project Meetings

Due to the ongoing pandemic of Covid-19, project partners have participated in eight (8) online meetings via Zoom coordinated by Jugend- & Kulturprojekt e.V. since June 2021.

The 2nd transnational partner meeting is taking place face-to-face in Nicosia, Cyprus from 19-20 May 2022, hosted by Eurosuccess.

During the meeting, partners will have the opportunity to finalise the Webinar, discuss the general progress of the project, decide the final structure of the portal of cooperation and plan the upcoming Joint Staff Training Event in Heraklion, Crete (GR).
